AFRICAN ENERGY CHAMBER ADVISORY SERVICES

Partnering for Africa's Energy
Growth

The African Energy Chamber (AEC) – representing the voice of the African energy sector – has launched a dedicated Advisory Services division aimed at supporting sustainable energy development across the continent. Aligned with the organization’s broader mandate to enhance the African energy landscape, these services are tailored to the needs of stakeholders operating across the oil, gas and petrochemical value chains, providing end-to-end support across the full project lifecycle.

Building on the AEC’s robust African and global presence, the Advisory Services are designed to facilitate business transactions, attract foreign direct investment, and support mergers and acquisitions (M&A). With a strong focus on alleviating energy poverty and maximizing the value of Africa’s vast energy resources, the AEC’s Advisory Services offer practical, actionable support grounded in industry-leading expertise and regional understanding.

financial modeling - We support clients in evaluating technical and financial viability, preparing robust studies that meet investor and lender requirements.

- » Advisory on regulatory compliance, market entry, and risk mitigation - Understanding Africa’s regulatory diversity is essential. We provide guidance on navigating evolving legal frameworks, identifying risks and developing strategies for compliant, risk-adjusted operations.
- » Stakeholder alignment and communication strategies - The AEC helps companies engage governments, communities and private sector stakeholders effectively, fostering trust and long-term partnerships.
- » Application of industry-leading practices to optimize returns and drive growth - Leveraging best practices and tailored strategies, we support efficiency, performance and long-term value creation.

WHAT WE OFFER

Strategic Support Across the Project Lifecycle

The AEC delivers tailored advisory support to project developers, investors, governments, and corporates engaged in Africa’s oil, gas and petrochemical sectors. These services are designed to address project-level and market-wide challenges, ensuring stakeholders are equipped to navigate complexity and seize opportunity.

KEY AREAS OF FOCUS INCLUDE:

- » Comprehensive project planning and execution support - From concept development to delivery, we provide the tools and insights needed to design and execute successful energy projects in Africa.
- » Investment-grade feasibility studies and

AEC PETROLEUM INVESTMENT SUPPORT

Facilitating High-Impact Investment Across the Energy Value Chain

Beyond project advisory, the AEC plays a leading role in identifying and delivering high-value investment opportunities across Africa’s petroleum sector. Working with public and private stakeholders, we provide strategic guidance on identifying, structuring and implementing projects across upstream, midstream and downstream segments.

Our services include:

- » Origination and advisory of upstream, midstream, and downstream investments - We help clients identify strategic investment opportunities and guide them through the process of entering new or existing energy markets.
- » Pre-feasibility studies, contractor representation, and project structuring - Early-stage assessments and structuring services ensure projects are well-positioned for success, from technical viability to commercial terms.
- » Technical services, including engineering, maintenance and material sourcing - Our network provides access to trusted partners and support across project execution, asset management and equipment sourcing.
- » Strategic planning and operational guidance to maximize investment performance - With insights grounded in African market realities, we help investors and operators align operations with long-term strategic goals.

DRIVING GROWTH THROUGH PARTNERSHIP

At the core of the AEC's Advisory Services is a commitment to partnership, local engagement, and results. By combining technical know-how with market-specific expertise, the AEC supports its clients in making informed decisions, executing sound strategies, and unlocking value across African markets.

Our services are underpinned by:

- A pan-African footprint and strong global outlook
- Strategic relationships with governments, NOCs, private operators and financiers
- Access to actionable data and real-time market intelligence
- A deep understanding of the regulatory, operational and commercial nuances of African energy markets

The AEC has set a strong mandate to make energy poverty history in Africa, and to do this, the organization has committed to working closely with African governments, international operators and financiers. Through a combination of sector expertise, technical proficiency and market insight, the AEC enables clients to capture value, manage risk and achieve sustainable growth in complex energy markets.
